

CONTENTS

VOLUME ONE

PART ONE: ELEMENTS OF INTERNATIONAL LAW

1. INTERNATIONAL LAW IN PERSPECTIVE	1
I. Definition and Distinctions	1
II. The Perspectives of International Law	3
A. International Law in Historical Perspective	3
B. International Law in Sociological Perspective	7
C. International Law in Ethical Perspective	12
III. The Doctrine of International Law	14
A. The Place of the Doctrine of International Law	14
B. History of the Doctrine of International Law	14
2. THE FOUNDATIONS OF INTERNATIONAL LAW	23
I. The Law-Creating Processes	24
A. Treaties	26
B. International Customary Law	27
C. The General Principles of Law	29
II. The Law-Determining Agencies	30
A. The Primary and Subsidiary Law-Determining Agencies	30
B. The Elements of Law-Determining Agencies	31
III. The System of International Law	36
IV. The Fundamental Principles of International Law	37
A. The Rules of International Law	37
B. The Principles of International Law	38
C. The Fundamental Principles of International Law	38
D. Optional Principles and Standards	39
V. International Law and Municipal Law	40
A. Conflicting Doctrines	40
B. The Struggle for Supremacy	41
C. The Exclusiveness of International Law	42
D. The Formative Influence of Municipal Law on International Law	43
E. The Application of International Law by Municipal Organs	44
F. The Blending of International Law and Municipal Law	45

3. INTERNATIONAL PERSONALITY	47
I. International Personality in Historical Perspective	47
II. Typical Subjects of International Law	48
A. Independent States	48
B. Dependent States	54
C. League Mandates and United Nations Trust Territories	55
III. The Principle of Sovereignty	57
A. The Meanings of Sovereignty	58
B. The Governing Rules	58
C. The Co-existence of Sovereign States	59
D. The Complementary Character of the Rules of International Law	59
E. The Significance of Negative Sovereignty	61
IV. The Principle of Recognition	61
A. The Functions of Recognition	62
B. Underlying Rules	62
V. The Acquisition of International Personality	63
A. Modes of Acquisition of International Personality	64
B. Recognition of States	65
C. Recognition of Governments and Heads of State	67
D. Recognition of Insurgency and Belligerency	69
VI. Non-Typical Subjects of International Law	71
A. The Holy See	71
B. International Institutions	72
C. Individuals	73
VII. International Representation	75
A. Heads of State	75
B. Ministers	75
C. Diplomatic Representatives	76
D. Representation of, in and at International Institutions	77
E. Consuls	79
VIII. Continuity and Discontinuity of International Personality	79
A. The Relativity of Continuity and Discontinuity of International Personality	80
B. The Legal Consequences of the Cession of Territory	80
C. Subrogation and Treaties	82
D. The Alleged Rule of General State Succession	82
4. STATE JURISDICTION	84
I. The Statics and Dynamics of the Problem	84

4. STATE JURISDICTION— cont.
II. The Forms of State Jurisdiction	85
A. Personal and Territorial Jurisdiction	85
B. Ordinary and Extraordinary Jurisdiction	87
C. Exclusive, Limited and Concurrent Jurisdiction	89
III. State Jurisdiction and the Co-existence of Sovereign States	90
IV. Limitation of State Jurisdiction under International Customary Law	92
A. Evolution of the Governing Rules	92
B. Diplomatic and Consular Immunities	93
C. State Immunity	96
D. Innocent Passage and Ships in Distress	97
E. Minimum Standards in Favour of Foreigners	99
F. The Abuse of Rights	99
V. Limitation of Jurisdiction by Way of Treaty	100
A. The Law of International Institutions	101
B. International Economic Law	102
C. International Social Law	107
D. International Criminal Law	108
E. International Air Law	109
F. Space Law	110
5. OBJECTS OF INTERNATIONAL LAW	113
I. Territory	114
A. Titles to Territory	114
B. National Air Space	118
C. Internal Waters and the Territorial Sea	119
II. The High Seas	122
A. The Principle of the Freedom of the Seas	122
B. Exceptions	124
III. Individuals and Corporations	128
A. Individuals	129
B. Corporations	133
IV. Ships and Aircraft	134
6. INTERNATIONAL TRANSACTIONS	136
I. The Principle of Good Faith	137
II. The Principle of Consent	138
III. Treaties	140
A. The Meaning and Functions of Treaties	140
B. The Compatibility of Treaties with the Principles of Sovereignty and Equality of States	141
C. Public Contracts	142

6. INTERNATIONAL TRANSACTIONS— cont.
III. Treaties— cont.
D. The Conclusion of Treaties	143
E. Legal Effects of Treaties	149
F. The Interpretation of Treaties	152
G. The Revision of Treaties	155
H. The Suspension and Termination of Treaties	157
IV. Unilateral Acts	160
A. Types of Unilateral Acts	160
B. Legal Characteristics and Effects of Unilateral Acts	161
C. Parallel and Collective Acts	161
V. The Principle of International Responsibility	162
A. The Breach of an International Obligation	163
B. The Legal Interest of the Claimant	164
C. Identity of the Tortfeasor	166
D. The Requirement of Fault	168
E. Reparation	169
7. LEGAL AND ILLEGAL USES OF FORCE	170
I. The Principle of Self-Defence	172
II. Measures of Self-Defence	173
III. The Three States of International Law	174
IV. Collective Security	176
V. State and Effects of War	179
A. State of War	179
B. Effects of War	180
VI. Functions and Foundations of the Laws of War	185
A. Functions of the Laws of War	185
B. Foundations of the Laws of War	187
VII. The Law of Land Warfare	188
A. Limitations ratione loci	189
B. Limitations ratione instrumenti	189
C. Limitations ratione personae	190
VIII. The Law of Maritime Warfare	192
IX. The Law of Air Warfare	197
X. Breaches of the Rules of Warfare	198
XI. Armed Conflicts not of an International Character	200
A. Colonial Wars	201
B. Civil Wars	201
C. Co-Belligerency	202
D. The Impact of the Geneva Red Cross Conventions of 1949	202
XII. Termination of War	203

8. THE LAW OF NEUTRALITY	206
I. Neutrality in Historical Perspective	206
II. The Basic Rules	208
III. Permanent Neutrality and Neutralisation	209
IV. Rights and Duties of Neutral States	210
A. Neutrality in Land Warfare	211
B. Neutrality in Maritime Warfare	212
C. Neutrality in Air Warfare	215
V. Neutral Nationals and Property in War on Land	215
A. Presence in a Belligerent's Own Territory	215
B. Presence in Occupied Territory	216
C. Presence in Enemy Territory	216
VI. Neutral Nationals and Property in War at Sea	217
A. The Right of Visit and Search	218
B. Seizure, Destruction and Adjudication of Neutral Prize	219
C. Contraband	220
D. The Doctrine of Continuous Voyage	222
E. Unneutral Services	223
F. Submarine Cables and Wireless Telegraphy	223
G. The Law of the War of 1756	224
H. Blockade	224
I. Defence Areas, War Zones and Mines	225
J. Scope and Limits of Maritime Reprisals	226
9. THE LAW OF INTERNATIONAL INSTITUTIONS :
I. NON-COMPREHENSIVE INSTITUTIONS	227
I. Types of International Institutions	227
II. Judicial International Institutions	229
A. Patterns for the Peaceful Settlement of International Disputes	229
B. Arbitration in Historical Perspective	230
C. Functions	233
D. Organisation	235
E. Jurisdiction	237
F. Procedure	242
G. Judgments and Advisory Opinions	244
H. An Evanescent Mystique	247
III. Governmental International Institutions	249
IV. Administrative International Institutions	250
A. Functions	251
B. Organisation	251
C. Co-ordination of Efforts	255

9. THE LAW OF INTERNATIONAL INSTITUTIONS:
I. NON-COMPREHENSIVE INSTITUTIONS— cont.
V. Legislative International Institutions	257
A. The Classical Conference Pattern	257
B. Legislation and Quasi-Legislation in Organised International Society	260
10. THE LAW OF INTERNATIONAL INSTITUTIONS:
II. COMPREHENSIVE INSTITUTIONS	265
I. Functions	265
II. Membership	266
A. Classes and Conditions of Membership	267
B. Suspension, Withdrawal and Expulsion of Members	268
C. Control over Non-Member States	269
D. Mandates and Trust Territories	269
E. Non-Self-Governing Territories	270
III. Sovereignty and Equality in the United Nations	270
A. Sovereignty	271
B. Equality	275
IV. The International Status of the United Nations	277
V. Organisation	278
A. The General Assembly	278
B. The Security Council	283
C. The Economic and Social Council	291
D. The Trusteeship Council	298
E. The Secretariat	303
VI. Jurisdiction	308
A. The Maintenance of World Order	308
B. The Other Objectives	312
C. Evaluation	313
11. THE LAW OF INTERNATIONAL INSTITUTIONS:
III. HYBRID INSTITUTIONS	315
I. Universalist One-Purpose Institutions	316
A. Common Characteristics	316
B. Membership	317
C. Organisation	322
D. Jurisdiction and Powers	327
II. Regional Institutions	329
A. Multi-Purpose Institutions	329
B. Regional One-Purpose Institutions	338
C. Supra-National Institutions	343

11. THE LAW OF INTERNATIONAL INSTITUTIONS:
III. HYBRID INSTITUTIONS— cont.
III. Sectional Institutions	355
A. Objectives	355
B. Functions	356
C. Significance	357
12. PATTERNS OF INTERNATIONAL LAW AND ORGANISATION IN THE NUCLEAR AGE	359
I. The Peculiarities of Classical International Law	360
II. The Ideology of the United Nations and the Reality of World Power Politics	361
III. A Necessary Distinction	364
IV. Patterns for the Development of International Law	365
A. Restatement or Reform?	365
B. Codification or Common Law Pattern?	367
C. Universal or Non-Universal Patterns?	370
D. Official or Unofficial Agencies?	371
V. Conditions of International Order	373
VI. Patterns of World Order	375
A. The "One Way" Pattern	375
B. The "Bad Faith" Pattern	377
C. The Functional Pattern	378
D. The Regional Pattern	378
E. The United Nations Reform Pattern	380
F. The "World State by Consent" Pattern	381
G. The "Natural" Selection Pattern	382

VOLUME TWO

PART TWO: STUDY OUTLINES

INTRODUCTORY NOTE	385
I. INTERNATIONAL LAW IN PERSPECTIVE	387
II. THE FOUNDATIONS OF INTERNATIONAL LAW	398
III. INTERNATIONAL PERSONALITY	418
IV. STATE JURISDICTION	460
V. OBJECTS OF INTERNATIONAL LAW	515
VI. INTERNATIONAL TRANSACTIONS	549
VII. LEGAL AND ILLEGAL USES OF FORCE AND THE LAW OF NEUTRALITY	579
VIII. THE LAW OF INTERNATIONAL INSTITUTIONS	625

